This Week in Magazines...

May 26, 2009

---May-June Elite Traveler, "the private jet lifestyle magazine," offers a look at the new Learjet 85, which seats up to 10 and can be yours for "about $17.2 million," and gives us an itinerary for sailing the Mediterranean on yachts for two weeks (the preferred boat comes your way for $56,600 a week, "fully inclusive," with your stays potentially including the "1,620-square-foot Gwyneth Paltrow Suite at the Capri Palace" on Capri). And there are also tips for overall security for the magazine's readers since "violent reprisals on the affluent are the product of mounting financial distress."
