Mr. Doug Gollan
President & Editor-in-Chief
Elite Traveler Magazine

Recently, an investor contacted me with an interest in developing a hotel in the Turks and Caicos Islands. This individual was about to finalize a project with another island-country, but focused his attention on us after reading about investment opportunities in the Turks and Caicos from our advertorials published in Elite Traveler Magazine.

We met, and following a series of site inspections, this investor is convinced of the clear advantages of doing business in the Turks and Caicos Islands. I am pleased to report that negotiations are underway to now locate his new property in our Islands, where it will become yet another of our wonderful tourism assets.

We are truly leashed at Elite Traveler's ability to effectively communicate our investment message and deliver it to the right target audience- the elite affluent investors, developers and businesses that we seek for our Islands.

We look forward to an ongoing partnership with Elite Traveler that will continue to reap benefits both for our beautiful Islands and our International investment community.

Sincerely,

The Honorable Michael E. Misick
Chief Minister
