THE EGERTON HOUSE / ANTONIO PIZZUTO

DINING

The Egerton and the local area is a five-star gourmet paradise. You'll be delighted by the hotel's all-day menu, which draws a regular and appreciative audience of people who like great food impeccably served in either the cozy onsite dining room or the intimate surroundings of the drawing room and bar.

The Egerton House is a popular location for traditional English afternoon tea, which is a local Knightsbridge institution, built on the generosity of the portions, the elegance of the surroundings and the attentiveness of the service.

Another seemingly timeless institution is Head Barman Antonio Pizzuto. Antonio has spent 40 years perfecting his art, which is why his martinis are quite simply the best in London. Under his stewardship, the hotel bar has become one of the hidden gems of the city—a word-of-mouth destination for those who like soft conversation in intimate surroundings.

MEETINGS AND MORE

The Egerton House Hotel is a chic and stylish venue for hosting cocktail parties with up to 20 people or small family gatherings—birthdays, anniversaries, private dinners or other celebrations—for a maximum of ten people.

This friendly boutique hotel lends itself to small-scale events. The location—ideal for Knightsbridge, South Kensington, Brompton or Chelsea—is superb, while the magnificent decor provides an elegant backdrop to the simplest of occasions.
